How Council Passes Important By-Laws

Politics and the Pool
—o—
Liberals and Conservatives are clashing with storm the alleged action by U.F.A. speakers to introduce the Pool into politics. There has been no basis for that allegation. At the same time the public have a right to know where each candidate stands with regard to the pools for there is no doubt that the crucial moment for the pools will come within the next two years.

For instance, what is the position of party candidates with regard to an export duty on wheat. This was advocated by Conservative speakers in the last Dominion election.

The Canadian Wheat Pool and the trade are both at present using all the influence they can at Ottawa with regard to Bill No. 3, An Act to Amend the Canada Grain Act (Wheat Exportation) introduced by M. N. Campbell, Progressive member for Mackenzie, in the Dominion House last session. The purpose of the bill is to restore to the farmer the right to determine the destination of his grain, which was taken away from him last year by an amendment. The Dominion Government first of all agreed to accept the bill as one of its own measures but at opposition developed from the grain trade the Government refused to accept responsibility for it, and it will have to go through the gauntlet of the House. Pool officials state according to A. M. Boutiller, M.P. that the Wheat Pool lost not less than a million dollars last year by the striking out of this protection for the farmers. Who got the million?

What is the stand of the Conservative and Liberal parties on this matter? The vote in the House will show. The offer of the Wheat Pool to lease the Vancouver Harbour Elevator is another matter that will be discussed in the Dominion House. The grain trade opposes this. What will be the position of Liberal and Conservative members?

Alberta wishes a representative from this Province on the Vancouver Board. Ramor has it that the appointment which is made by the Dominion will be deferred till after the Provincial election, and will be made by the Liberal and Conservative members.

While the discussion on the Stock Yards Act, recently assented to by the (Continued on another page)

GOVERNMENT CAMPAIGN OPENS

In the limited time prior to election the U.F.A. Government will conduct an intensive campaign throughout the Province.

Last week Premier Brownlee spoke at Cardston, Taber, and several other points in the south country. At the beginning of the present week he addressed meetings at Empress, Lethbridge, and Youngstown, and will speak at some point every day till election day, June 28, with the exception of Sunday. It is expected that the last day of the campaign meetings will be broadcasted by radio.

The other ministers will also speak at points throughout the Province, in support of Government candidates. The central board of the U.F.A. met at Calgary Wednesday and Thursday, endeavoring to arrange a schedule for the various ministers and pending arrangements for the campaign.

Death of David Mitchell Robison

There passed away at Carleton Place, Monday, May 24th, 1926, Mr. David Mitchell Robison, a well known and highly respected citizen of the Carleton Place district. Mr. Robison was born in New London, Iowa, on July 26, 1872, where his parents had pioneered amongst the earliest settlers in that locality.

Mr. Robison was married to Almada C. Higgins, of Zwingle, Iowa, on April 22, 1877, and settled at Storm Lake, later moving to Sheldon, Iowa, where, in early manhood, he became a member of the Methodist Church. There were six children: Weslie, who died in infancy; Abbie McCumb, of Brookings, South Dakota; Ethel Green, died in 1919; David and Homer, living at Carleton Place; Edith Evans, living at Chazy; and an adopted niece Edith Neilsen, at Zwingle.

In 1910 Mr. Robison and his family removed to Carleton Place, where they purchased farm lands. Mr. David Anderson came up with them, and has continued as a member of the family ever since.

Mr. Robison has been known as a hard working, industrious man, and always interested in the welfare of the community, and good clean athletics. He took an active interest in the building of the United Church.

The term of three months, in which Councillor Miner has been acting mayor having expired and Mr. Miner had a chance to escape from these duties, it was decided to appoint Councillor Shute for the ensuing three months.

Current accounts amounting to about $110 were referred to the Finance Committee, with instructions to pay if found correct.

An account was presented by C. W. Chase for $160, covering the cost of people unable to pay, from 1911 to date. Mr. Chase stressed the point of the unfairness of forcing the undertaker to carry these expenses. As most of the claims were outlawed the Councillors felt that they could not do anything in the matter, but will give consideration to those of a later date at another meeting.

1926 Strathmore Stampede

Dick Cosgrove Again Manager

A meeting was held in the Memorial Hall to discuss the advisability of having a stampede in 1926. There was a fairly good attendance.

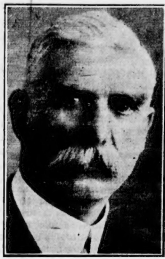

Mr. Thos. E. Wright was elected chairman, and Mr. W. S. Patterson, secretary, pro tem.

Mr. Wright read the very satisfactory statement in connection with the 1925 stampede, through which they had been enabled to turn over to the Memorial Hall Fund in excess of a thousand dollars.

The next question was whether it was or was not advisable to hold a stampede in 1926, and it was unanimously decided to do so.

The following officers and committees were then elected or appointed for the 1926 stampede:

President—Thos. E. Wright.
Secretary—A. A. Moore.
Treasurer—W. S. Patterson.
Manager—Dick Cosgrove.
Assistant Managers—R. Anderson and Leslie West.
Executive Committee—Frank Miller.

J. C. BUCKLEY
U. F. A. Candidate for Gleichen Riding

Carleton, of which he was an active and faithful member. He was a good student of the Bible, and retained an active interest in religion until the last. During the later months of his life, he often spoke of his faith in Christ as his Saviour. And, as the end drew near, he often expressed his desire that he would be able to pass quietly over to the Better Land. And so he passed quietly away.

He leaves a widow, his children, and grandchildren to mourn his loss.

In the absence of his Pastor, the funeral service was conducted by the Rev. A. H. Howe, B.A., of Strathmore, at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, May 25th. An appropriate address was given by Mr. Mervine Piper, of Drumheller, who is a friend of the family. Nearly every home in the community was represented at the funeral.

Messrs. A. M. Moore, Oscar Moorehouse, W. J. Morgan, H. Lawson, Frank Addams, M. A. Van Der Velde were the pall bearers.

The floral tributes were beautiful, being contributed by the community, so that half were used at the funeral, and the other half were to meet the remains at Sheldon.

After the service the casket removed to the express office, where the remains were shipped, accompanied by his son David, and his daughter, Mrs. Abbie McCumb, to Sheldon, Iowa, where interment will take place.

His Clear Majority Over Other Two Candidates.

At a largely attended convention of representatives of U.F.A. Locals of Gleichen riding, held at Calgary on Tuesday, J. C. Buckley, present member, was nominated by a clear majority over two other candidates, A. C. Serat, of Irricana, and John Mackenzie, Strathmore.

Almost every district in the constituency was represented, there being 64 delegates present, out of 64 entitled to be present, and also a considerable number of visitors.

Following the announcement of the election, the vote was made unanimous on the motion of the other two candidates.

A stirring address was delivered by Premier J. E. Brownlee, outlining the work of the Government, and the superiority of the U.F.A. system over the party system.

The Convention opened at 10 o'clock and the forenoon was taken up with the discussion of business connected with the forthcoming election, and the nomination of candidates. A. C. Serat, President of the Association, opened the meeting, and on being nominated turned over the chair to S. J. Ewing.

Following the luncheon recess brief addresses were given by the three candidates. Mr. Buckley stated that he had done his best to represent them during the five years he had been their member, and it rested with them to give the verdict as to whether his services had been satisfactory.

Mr. Serat said that his nomination was at the earnest solicitation of friends. He had had considerable experience in connection with administrative work.

Mr. Mackenzie stated that personally he had not been ambitious for nomination, but that a number of his former friends had asked him to let his name go forward. He paid a high compliment to Mr. Buckley's services in the Legislature.

The voting then took place, under the preferential voting system, when it was announced that Mr. Buckley had a clear majority of the total votes. The other candidates then moved and seconded that the election be made unanimous, which was done by acclamation. In moving, Messrs. Mackenzie and Serat said they thanked their supporters, and would do everything possible to further Mr. Buckley's candidature.

Premier Addresses Meeting

Though only now recovering from throat trouble, which has held him in Calgary, the premier said that Premier Brownlee delivered a fine address, in which he defended the actions of the present administration.

During the past few months the old parties had brought forward leaders whom they thought would do the work of Moses, and lead them out of the wilderness. The whole argument of their opponents seemed to rest on the personality of their leader. The Government, on the contrary, preferred to base their argument on their record of administration. In the whole of their administration there had not been one single accusation of dishonesty, which was a record of which they were very proud.

Mr. Brownlee then dealt with various departments of the Government. During the two years operation of the Liquor laws, there had not been one complaint in the House as to its enforcement. With regard to railways, education, public work, and other departments, there was very little criticism of their administrative record. These departments came closer home to people than did Natural Resources, railway problems, etc., as they affected individual taxation, and everyone would feel at once the effect of poorly administered departments.

Test Office At A Difficult Time

The present Government took office at a difficult time. They could certainly have balanced the budget the first year they took office, but they would have either to starve the essential services, or greatly increase the pressure of taxes to do so. They preferred to retain these services functioning efficiently, but made economies where ever possible as in the case of the King's Printer, Land Titles Office, telephone staff, and numerous other departments. The revenue had gradually approached the expenditure, and the budget was now balanced. The Province was yearly becoming more prosperous, and from now on should live within its revenue. Ontario had been faced with a similar difficulty under a Conservative government, and so far had not been able to balance its budget.

Capital Debt Increase

Dealing with the capital debt, Brownlee said that while in the last election year the increase in capital debt was $16,700,000, last year it was only two and a half million. Capital borrowings would, however, be necessary so long as we wished to spend money on new highways, etc.

Both Shaw and McMillan were very lavish with promises, but for himself he would rather lose the election than make promises he could not carry out. Promises cost money to carry out.

The Railway Situation

The Liberals did not state the truth in their descriptions of the railway situation. The Government could not have taken action before July 1925, and only two alternatives were open, settlement or foreclosure. The position was that the government had one good offer, and another was expected in a day or two. The Government were now in a position to operate the road themselves or lease or otherwise dispose of it.

Despite the assertions made, the Government had done much in connection with the dry area problem, and many men who otherwise would have been out of business, had a fresh start and were making good. The coal marketing problem was being worked out, and in fact many of the plants on the Shaw platform were already in operation.

The Premier then outlined the Government's position on the natural resources situation, saying that Alberta had not blocked the passage of the natural resources bill, but that we did not want our people torn apart by a

The Improved Ford Coupe

THE improved Coupe is a lower, roomier car with a superior refinement and superior appearance that bespeak the really fine automobile.

The all-steel body, finished in dark blue with nickel-plated radiator shell and lamp rims, and mounted on the lower chassis, has given the motoring world a car of rare distinction.

The seats and steering column are lower, providing greater leg room and an easier riding position. The front pillars are narrower, reducing the possibility of "blind spots." The doors are wider. There is a one-piece windshield, which, with the coil over, gives improved ventilation control. A padded panel is provided within the car, and the rear deck has been re-designed affording greater luggage space.

JUNE 16, THE DATE;

STRATHMORE THE PLACE

Mr. Jones, President of the Agricultural Society, and Secretary Dunn are working steadily perfecting arrangements for the Big Plowing Match, which will be held on June 16, at Strathmore.

They have made the classes so varied and interesting that there will be ample opportunity for the experienced and protident plowman, together with an open field in each class for the boys 19 years and under.

An attractive list of prizes will be presented to the winners, and also the runners up.

That the match may be an assured success the management have arranged for all prizes and no entrance fee is being charged, nor any admission charge to see these very interesting contests.

The matter of scoring has been very carefully worked out so that each contestant obtains credit for each point in which he is most proficient.

Arrangements have been made to secure the services of Provincial Government Judges, so each contestant may rest fully satisfied that his work will be judged by men who are experts.

As all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, the directors have also provided for an attractive ball game to be played in the evening to be followed by a big dance at the evening at the Memorial Hall. Now is that not a good day's outing, combining fun, frolic and development? If there is anything further you want to know about the contest, just call Fred J. Dunn, who is just sporting to give everyone full and complete details.

Be in Strathmore on June 16, or you will be poor.

THE POOL IN POLITICS

One of the greatest movements of this age is being jeopardized by office-seeking politicians. Probably it is not the intention of the Brownlee government to allow this thing to proceed, but nevertheless it is being exploited by certain members of his cabinet. At Hassan last Saturday the Hon. Geo. Howland introduced into Ben Plumer's inauguration meeting.

He contended that the government should be returned to power to insure friendly treatment of the pool.

The management of the pool, as at present constituted, in our opinion, is quite capable of carrying on the affairs of that organization. It has been developing from year to year, through both Liberal and U.F.A. regimes, until at the present time it holds an unique position with a considerable controlling influence in the price of wheat.

It has, however, not yet reached its "extremity." For it is to be made a political football and to be handed about for party gain, is nothing short of criminal.

Mr. Howland, however, is not passing up any opportunity of self aggrandizement. He has wet his finger and believes he has found what side the wind is blowing on. Once before he benefitted by this idea--and deserted the Conservative ranks.

—Brooks Bulletin

BUDGET THE NATIONAL DEBT

In his recent address to the Toronto Canadian Club on Canada's national problems, Sir Thomas White summed up Canada's financial position. He pointed out that the net direct public debt of the country was seven times what it was before the outbreak of the war. In addition to the Dominion direct debt there was a heavy outstanding indirect debt upon guarantee of issues of the railway companies now embraced in the Canadian National system, and for the annual deficit upon that system. Also there must be taken into account fresh capital expenditures, not productive, which should be written off.

Yet, with these heavy financial burdens, with obligations totalling a couple of billion dollars coming due in the next few years, Canada is without a definite budget plan to take care of her debt. The Financial Post has frequently drawn attention to this fact. We believe that one of the most important tasks that lie before Mr. Robt is to schedule the national financial and taxation program that not only will there be funds to take up maturing obligations, but that refunding issues should be made on a serial basis, so that the revenue of each year will not only take care of the carrying charges, but will, over a definite period, discharge the capital debt.

And during this period of reducing the national debt--largely the result of the war--Canadian taxpayers must look for relief in their tax burdens to a government which will curtail current expenditures through economical administration and a continued improvement in the reduction of the annual deficit of the National Railways, secured not through expedients charged to capital account, but by increased efficiency.

EVERYBODY SHOULD GET BEHIND STRATHMORE STAMPEDE

The 1926 Stampede was again gotten under headway at the general meeting which was held at the Memorial Hall. It was very gratifying and encouraging to those in attendance, that the President, Mr. Thos. E. Wright, and Manager Mr. Dick Cosgrove were again available to hold office for another year.

The fact that these two gentlemen will be at the head of affairs, immediately created an atmosphere of confidence among the older members of the respective committees, and also gave ample assurance to the new members, who are glad to serve in the ranks behind two such successful leaders.

The Standard would like specially to refer to the collecting committee, who are called upon to visit the merchants and business men in quest of funds. This is the hardest position in the whole organization to fill. It is absolutely necessary to raise funds in this way: make up your mind how much you can assist, make it as big as you can possibly afford, but, big or little, meet that committee cordially, give what you give freely, and send them on their way rejoicing, and remember the fact that they are doing this work for the benefit of the whole community; they are working for you.

With Mr. Wright leading the procession, with an eagle eye on the expenditures, and the canny W. S. Patterson looking after the dime, it is a foregone conclusion that the public will get value for every nickel expended, while in the practical end of the same there is not an avenue of doubt when it is known that Dick Cosgrove is again at the helm. Following the association that he has had with the cowboys and cowgirls of the province, and his close connection with the Calgary show, which will end just a few days before Strathmore. There is little doubt but that Dick will put over the biggest small town stampede in the province.

In addition to the stampede the big carnival will be a real feature, long to be remembered, and will be promised assistance from the newly formed lodge of the Elks, who have made themselves famous as fun makers. Everyone may look forward to the big day, July 14, as one that will make history in the amusement line, and set a high watermark for all the smaller towns of the province to shoot at, for many a long day. Remember the date July 14.

BILL WILLIAMS

An Experiment That Succeeded

Five years ago the people of Alberta, disgusted with the failure of Party Government to function to the advantage of the Province, defeated the candidates of the party machines, and experimented with a Government composed of men with no previous parliamentary experience, but actuated by a desire to serve the people's interests.

Five years have elapsed since that election. The Government formed then, goes back to the electors this month for their verdict.

The party machines are doing their utmost to defeat the only business and non-party Government the Province has ever had. U.F.A. candidates are responsible to their constituents, not to Ottawa. They have no blessings from Mackenzie King or Meighen, no patronage to distribute, no promise to make but that of continued good Government.

The members of the U.F.A. have subscribed funds and contracted for this space in the Strathmore Standard and in the limited time and space available from now till election day will endeavor to broadcast the facts. Further facts will be given at U.F.A. meetings to be held in your district, at which your attendance is invited.

THE GUN CLUB

The members had a whale of a time at the last meeting. Some of the boys have been joking that Barber about his scores, which he explains is only caused by the injury he suffered to his shoulder last winter, and which is daily improving, so that he expects to make some of the local minors jealous before the season ends.

However, he trotted out a new club at this session in J. G. Miller, who hung a score of 23, which was only equaled by A. Pierson and Hugh Jerry.

Leslie West got eight out of his first ten shots, when a touch of "Black fever" came on that spoiled a beautiful score. However, "Red" is quite certain that in a couple of weeks he will make a lot of those old birds sit up and take notice.

The following are the scores:

Archie McLean	8
W. J. Miller	22
J. Whiteside	17
Nels White	18
Geo. Anderson	12

EDITORIAL NOTES

Hugh Miller, the Conservative candidate, is denouncing his war paint, and will open the campaign in Glenora riding with a series of meetings. Hugh says someone will know that he has taken part in a real contest before the battle is over.

People often complain in regard to freight rates being too high in Canada without considering the fact that we enjoy much lower rates than do the American people. For example the rate carrying wheat from Alberta to Fort William is 25c for 1,165 miles, while the rate from Montana to Duluth, 1,011 miles, is 15 cents.

Hon. Geo. Hoadley is a wise old political war horse, and may win some votes playing with the wheat pool, but he sure is playing with fire, in regard to the future welfare and success of the wheat pool when he bids for votes by appealing to the sentiment of wheat pool members.

Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P., is worrying her poor soul because the inmates of the prisons have not been put on the payroll, but seems to sidestep the pain, worry and financial loss many of these birds have caused to other innocent families, without any possible chance of their obtaining satisfaction. Surely these people should have a first claim upon the state funds.

If you are not a member of the Strathmore Agricultural Society you will make the directors feel good by handing in your membership fee. You know that a real election cannot be put over with good wishes. Do your bit, and do it now.

Since the Canadian Wheat Pool was established, its influence has become almost world-wide, in stabilizing markets, and the Canadian farmer has become a dominating factor in the grain trade of the world.

KEOMA FOOTBALL

Bridgeland Rovers visited Keoma Monday last, where they engaged the snappy Keoma eleven. A good crowd turned out to watch the game, and went away satisfied that the visitors had the edge on the local boys. The game was hotly contested from start to finish, Keoma putting all they knew to force a win, but the Rovers, with their better understanding, outwitted their opponents, and scored a well earned victory by five goals to one.

At the conclusion of the game, representatives of the Bruce Lake Sports League, extended an invitation to the Bridgeland team to visit their Gala July 1st, and in all probability will accept.

Carleton: 1 B. Hiram Melendy, Carleton; 2 Edith Dale, Strathmore; Olga Saddle, Carleton; 1 C. Arthur McDonald, Strathmore; Irene Giroux, Strathmore.

IV—Lionel Gilbert, Carleton; Edith Kesteven, Carleton. The total points won were approximately as follows:

Carleton 171

Strathmore 148

Serviceberry Creek 23

Crowfoot 11

Namika 10

The other points were divided among the following schools: Berta Vale, Carleton; Glenora, Hervey, and Orange Valley.

HEARD ON THE STREET

A Calgary preacher says the girls are still looking for husbands, while Tony McKinley wisely suggests that he believes that they would be well advised in going over the Elk's list, to come themselves to the single men. He says it is none of his business, simply a suggestion.

Spencer Hughes agrees with Henry Ford that the saturation point has not been reached in the use of Ford cars. Sales never were better, and the quality and service in the new models are mightily had with which to compete.

The visitor arrived on No. 4 from Calgary, and held out her arms to the small son of the house, who had been the guest of agent Perry until the train arrived.

"Don't you want to kiss me, Tommy?"

"No, I don't," said Tommy, stepping back.

"Why don't you like me, dear?"

"No, I don't," said Tommy, stepping back.

"Because you're ugly—that's why not."

"Tommy!" interrupted the boy's mother. "Aren't you ashamed?"

"Well," said Tommy, "I got punished for not telling the truth yesterday, and I'm not taking any risks to-day." And yet people often wonder why mothers turn grey.

Councillor Schulte has been reading that an Indian scientist has developed a plan to paralyze plants, and wonders how it will work on the good old fashioned dandelion.

Jim Gunn says that when two ladies kiss each other, it often reminds him of two boxes shaking hands over the board. When they are so fast asleep to land first.

A dear old church member from Carleton, obliged to remain in Edmont on Sunday, started out to attend service in one of the churches of his own faith, but losing his way, and seeing an open church door across the street, he entered, not knowing to what creed the congregation belonged. As the service progressed, his religious emotions waxed warmer, until finally he gave vent to them by shouting out, "Praise God."

Immediately one of the ushers tapped him on the shoulder and said: "You can't do that in this church, sir."

An irate woman opened the door of the telephone booth and tapped a man inside on the shoulder. "Look here," she said, "you've been in there half an hour and never spoken a word. These places are for public use, not for men to lounge away time inside."

I want to speak to my husband, but from what I can see of things I shall never—

"Excuse me," said the fellow behind the desk. "He's true I've not spoken for half an hour, but it isn't my fault. Frank Miller is on the line telling me about The Big Strathmore Stampede. It's his brother Louie."

A girl at Victoria landed a fish weighing 84 pounds, and Fred Anderson, who was getting on his feet, so excited, as he knows a Strathmore girl who has landed one five feet nine inches in its stocking feet, wears ball ties and trousers and has spoken to her.

Fred J. Dunn advises to never argue about the right of way with the driver of a larger and heavier car than your own, especially if the driver is also larger and heavier as well.

"Red McKechnie was asked why so many mothers and daughters look alike, and he suggests possibly they may share the same cosmetic outfit. It is only a suggestion."

That when Dick Cosgrove accepted the management of the Stampede, it was just about the final word that would be put on the subject. Just like securing the services of Guy Weadon. He knows the game, the boys and girls too like him, and the whole gang are with him. Whoopee, the Stampede is off to a flying start. Let 'er buck!

Father, dear Father, come home with me now, for ma has some carpets to beat, she's got all the furniture out to the yard, from the steps down to the street. The stove must come down and be put in the shed, and the yard must be shared of some grass for 45¢ time to clean house, and the house is to pay—and the front windows need some glass. Father, dear father, come home with me now, for ma has some boleros and cheongsams, and she's got to get them made. I'm so hungry I'll weep in the knees. All the dinner we'll have will be cold scraps and such, and we'll have to stand up on top, for tables and chairs, are out in the back; oh, I wish the house cleaning were through. Father, dear father, come home with me now, for ma is as mad as a Turk; she says you're evading the issue at stake, and you'd better get busy and work. There's painting to do and paper to hang and the windows and ceilings to scrub, for it's house-cleaning time, and you've got to come home and reveal in suits and cold grub."

A charming young lady entered the butcher shop the other morning and asked to see 29 pounds of meat. The lady was very particular to have it the exact weight. After raising a row for a while the butcher finally got a hunk to suit, told her the price, and was about to wrap it up, when the caller remarked she didn't wish to purchase it—her doctor in the city had put her on a diet last winter; she had lost 29 pounds in weight and she merely wanted to see how much meat that amount looked like in real meat. The butcher's remarks are not recorded.

A little girl, when met by a lady when she was going to buy some chocolates. "Why don't you give your money to the missionaries, little girl, she asked."

"I thought about that," replied the child. "But I think I will buy the chocolates and let Mr. Red McKechnie give the money to the missionaries. It might send it to the wrong place."

The teacher, wishing to arouse the interest of her Sunday School class, asked them to write the names of their favorite hymns. All the pupils but one wrote their heads over pencil and paper. A few minutes, and then handed in their slips—all except one. "Come Mary," said the teacher—"Bring your paper to me." Mary, with downcast eyes and flaming cheeks handed the teacher a slip of paper bearing the words—"Hector McLean."

Evidently they don't advertise over in England like we do in Canada. A couple of new arrivals were standing in front of a plumbing shop, in the window of which was a fine up-to-date toilet outfit. One of the young men from the old sod remarked: "I say, Bertie, just fancy placing one's bawls in such a conspicuous place, not to mention the toilet."

"STOP, LOOK, AND LISTEN" IS MORE THAN A SLOGAN

It is a statement of fact.

In spite of warnings from railway companies and automobile associations, there seems to be little difference in the number of accidents at level crossings, many of which have fatal results. Drivers of automobiles do not seem to realize that they cannot always beat the train, and when they are caught, always blame the railway company.

On August 22nd at a crossing near Inverview, a motor driven by one Strindland collided with a train, causing the death of the driver. His widow sued the Canadian Pacific Railway for $50,250.00, and when the case was tried at Edmonton last week, before Mr. Justice McDonald, the jury found there had been no negligence on the part of the defendant, and judgment was entered dismissing the action. The engineer in charge of the train had given all the statutory signals, which the late Mr. Strindland had ignored.

More WREED CAMPAIGN
More than fifty municipalities were represented at the convention of weed inspectors and supervisors at Olds. Through discussion of the weed campaign for the summer took place, and indications are for a vigorous prosecution of the fight against the weeds. Excellent cooperation between the various municipalities and the provincial department of agriculture in the campaign was manifest in the conversation and considerable progress is anticipated this year in clearing the province of the weed menace.

CRICKET MATCH

Strathmore scored their first victory of the season when they defeated the Inglewood team 58 to 21. The match was played under most trying conditions. A very strong wind swept across the pitch, making it equally difficult for both the batsman and bowler, but despite of it the local boys were able to bring home the bacon.

The Inglewood ladies very kindly provided the afternoon tea, which was certainly very much appreciated.

Next Saturday one of the best games of the season will be played on the local grounds. Strathmore, when they cross bats with the South Calgary team at 3 o'clock.

COURT OF REVISION

The Court of Revision was held on Monday night, and all the appeals dismissed except that of Emil Beyer, whose assessment was reduced to $50 per acre.

Just prior to the close of the Court, the Mayor and Mr. Lambers had a couple of rounds of catch-as-catch-can, which later developed into a sort of love (most and mutual admiration society).

STRATHMORE AND DISTRICT AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Posters giving the Prize List and Score Card system of judging are posted throughout the district, and all interested competitors should note before June 14th so that the committee can arrange for the land required being marked out.

Through the courtesy of the Oliver Chilled Plow Co. and the Ford Motor Company, films showing the preparation of seed beds and grain in various stages of germination will be shown in the Hall after the Ball game and before the dance. A small charge will be made for seeing these films, and every farmer should make a point of seeing them. The cost of preparation of the films was $20.00, and the Society are very fortunate in getting them. The Ford Motor Company will also try to get some films showing the plowing match at Hamilton, Ont., last year, when 15,000 people attended.

START ON NEW RAILWAY SOON

Promises have been given of an early start on construction of the Calgary and Southwestern Railway, a line calculated to tap coal reserves in the foothills southwest of Calgary. Certain changes of route for the railway were authorized in the recent session of the legislature.
